

DAILY RECORD-UNION

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

TUESDAY..... OCTOBER 26, 1886

The RECORD-UNION is the only paper on the coast, outside of San Francisco, that receives the full associated Press dispatches from all parts of the world. Outside of San Francisco it has no competitor, in point of numbers, in its home and general circulation throughout the coast.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCIES.

The paper is for sale at the following places: 1111 Market, 21st and Mechanics Exchange, who is also Sole Advertising Agent for San Francisco; Grand and Palace Hotel News Stand; 1111 Market, 21st and Mechanics Exchange, and Montgomery Street News Stand.

Also for sale on all Trains leaving and coming into Sacramento.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Eastern.—Baldwin is about to ship his racers to San Francisco....Each of the candidates for Mayor of New York thinks he will be elected....The preparations are being made for Liberty Day....Blaine is to speak in New York shortly....The United States Supreme Court decides that States cannot impose charges on interstate traffic....The Arctic Fox was killed at Denver yesterday....A 13-year-old girl has been sent to prison in Michigan for horse-stealing....The widow of the late A. T. Stewart died yesterday in New York.

Foreign.—The efforts on the Isle of Skye are forcibly resisting evictions....It is reported that two Russian war ships have arrived at Varina....Decisive action by Russia in Bulgaria is again expected....The Maria is going to fire on the coast of Siberia in London, 45-7-164.

PACIFIC COAST.—Ventura is feeling the benefit of having a railroad....A baseball umpire at St. Helena came near being lynched on Sunday....John King was killed by a freight train....The Miles on Grassy Valley destroyed 300 cords of wood....Marcell is affiliated with a tramp invasion....Swift addressed a large meeting at Salina, last evening....Valuable gold nuggets have been found on the coast of Vancouver Island....On Sunday night skilful goods to the value of $1,500 were stolen at San Jose.

WHAT IS AT STAKE.

Says the Chicago Inter-Ocean: The Democratic party has done nothing since its advent to power except to replace Republicans by Democrats in the various offices, simply because it can....It has not even a policy. It has no policy on the currency.

Senator Beck and Secretary Manning are at antipodes on the subject of the currency and the policy on the tariff. Mr. Randall and Mr. Carpenter are not within hailing distance of each other on either....The party is dead.

On the 1st of February, 1865, there was proposed this amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to be known, and now known, as the "Thirteenth Amendment."

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

The meeting organized by the election of the following officers: President, F. A. Small; Vice-Presidents, George W. Booth and Captain William Galt; Secretaries, J. Fletcher and R. C. Ferguson.

In assuming the duties of the chair, Mr. Small said: "The meeting of the Golden West, made a short and eloquent address, full of pith and sentiment, which was well received and frequently applauded. He said the cry of the Democracy, away, was, 'Let us be dead to the possibility of the present, or to the issues of the future. We do not blame the Democracy for crying, don't say anything about the past. Why should they wait till the time comes when we come forth to the light?' We, the colored people, however, are that part of the Republican party who think the past the most interesting recital we can listen to. The Democratic party stands before us, as our master, we hold the shackles of straining from our limbs the shackles our deliver. Why should we forget the past? How can we forget the past? And ever remember that the issue that made the grand old Republican party made us a free people. On motion of George W. Booth, the committee of correspondence for the election of George W. Booth, B. A. Johnson, Frank Butler, W. H. Gwin, John Allen.

The committee retired, and shortly returned with a report, and shortly reported by the Secretary.

The last lingering hope of the slave-masters hung in the balance; the world of humanity demanded that the damning blot should be effaced, and the United States of America be washed free from the stain of the curse. The nation had just passed through a long and terrible war, of which slavery was the genesis and the sole cause. Against amending the Constitution so that it should never again be the right of any man in this republic to chain a human being to his own flesh and blood to life, toil, and bondage, George Hearst voted. And for this man Republicans are brought to "knife" the nominees of their party, that he may be sent to the United States Senate as a representative of California, chosen from among the eleven men who, in the blaze of the nineteenth century, voted in her name to perpetuate human slavery.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

IMPORTANT NEWS CHANGE.

By arrangements recently perfected the Associated Press—the best and most elaborate news gathering agency in the world—will hereafter furnish news to the papers on this coast enjoying the facilities of the Association, from the Atlantic coast and Europe of the morning of the publication of the California papers. That is to say, we will be enabled in the RECORD-UNION to publish news of events, and news legitimately dated even with the date of our paper. Very often these news dispatches will bear date much later than the hour of our going to press, the difference in longitude accounting for this apparent advance dating. We will thus present accurate news of happenings, and development of news contemporaneous with the morning of our issue. This new arrangement involves far more of labor and enterprise than the old system, but will give our readers news from four to six hours later than heretofore, and render the morning paper more valuable than ever to all who keep pace in their reading with the newest events of the world. Under the new system many dispatches which have, heretofore first appeared in the evening will now be given in the morning.

CONFESS.

The Red Bluff Record is an intensely Democratic paper. It has no leanings away from its party. It is a vigorous paper, and, being intelligent, cannot close its eyes to the truth and maintain its self-respect. It says: "It is said by the Senate that a vote for Dr. Mathews is a vote for Hearst for Senator. If it will add the word 'possibly,' we concur. If Hearst should be the Democratic canes nominate Dr. Mathews will certainly vote for him. The News will endorse the vote. We do not regard Mr. Hearst as a proper man to be Senator, because he lacks ability and experience in public affairs, and is too much inclined to excuse the course of the hydraulic miners." It then proceeds to accommodate itself by saying Hearst is no worse in this respect than a Republican whom it assumes is to be chosen if a Republican Legislature is elected. Nevertheless, and while it is careful not to say that Republican legislative candidates are pledged in any direction, it is forced to return to its text and say that it doesn't like Hearst, and that there are many Democrats better fitted, etc. It would enlighten the News still more to study Hearst's many objectionable votes and his fight against Valley interests while in the Senate, his resistance to the Washington Territory bill and other acts testifying to his sub-servancy to partisanship, and his hand and glove contract with that powerful monopoly, the bull-butter syndicate, with its millions of capital consolidated to crush the dairy interests of the State.

HE VOTED FOR HUMAN SLAVERY.

On the 24th of March last the San Francisco Examiner said of George Hearst, now straining every nerve to capture the Legislature in order to reseat himself in the United States Senate, and in which he is receiving the active aid of the San Francisco Chronicle: "In 1865-6 he served in the State Legislature, on the Democratic side. Mr. Hearst's political record is too familiar to need any extended mention."

Let us see whether it does not need some extended mention, and why the Examiner did not make it.

On the 1st of February, 1865, there was proposed this amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to be known, and now known, as the "Thirteenth Amendment."

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

The meeting organized by the election of the following officers: President, F. A. Small; Vice-Presidents, George W. Booth and Captain William Galt; Secretaries, J. Fletcher and R. C. Ferguson.

In assuming the duties of the chair, Mr. Small said: "The meeting of the Golden West, made a short and eloquent address, full of pith and sentiment, which was well received and frequently applauded. He said the cry of the Democracy, away, was, 'Let us be dead to the possibility of the present, or to the issues of the future. We do not blame the Democracy for crying, don't say anything about the past. Why should they wait till the time comes when we come forth to the light?' We, the colored people, however, are that part of the Republican party who think the past the most interesting recital we can listen to. The Democratic party stands before us, as our master, we hold the shackles of straining from our limbs the shackles our deliver. Why should we forget the past? How can we forget the past? And ever remember that the issue that made the grand old Republican party made us a free people. On motion of George W. Booth, the committee of correspondence for the election of George W. Booth, B. A. Johnson, Frank Butler, W. H. Gwin, John Allen.

The committee retired, and shortly returned with a report, and shortly reported by the Secretary.

The last lingering hope of the slave-masters hung in the balance; the world of humanity demanded that the damning blot should be effaced, and the United States of America be washed free from the stain of the curse. The nation had just passed through a long and terrible war, of which slavery was the genesis and the sole cause. Against amending the Constitution so that it should never again be the right of any man in this republic to chain a human being to his own flesh and blood to life, toil, and bondage, George Hearst voted. And for this man Republicans are brought to "knife" the nominees of their party, that he may be sent to the United States Senate as a representative of California, chosen from among the eleven men who, in the blaze of the nineteenth century, voted in her name to perpetuate human slavery.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

There is something of danger in the air for the Democrats, however, so far as the lower House is concerned. The Republicans need next week to carry but twenty-two more districts in the Union than they now hold to give them a majority in the House of Representatives. In Indiana we are most likely to gain four, in Michigan probably two—the Fifth and Second. The Sixth District in Massachusetts will probably be wrenched from the Democrats, and in Ohio there are two districts that may be counted upon as liable to reverse.

Two in Iowa promise to return to the Republican party, while the Fourth District of West Virginia is held by the Democracy by a bare 153 plurality, and the Third Louisiana is only attached by a thread of a vote to the Democratic hopes. No wonder, then, that Mr. Gorman has been sent out to California to bring Hearst back to the Senate, with five Democratic Congressmen dangling at his coat skirts. The First District of California they count upon as hopelessly Democratic, and the district in which Sacramento is situated they concede to the Republicans. The remaining four Mr. Gorman hopes to swing over. Let Republicans review the situation, note how much is at stake and deliberately resolve to bend their strength from this on to bringing votes to the Republican party.

ADVERTISEMENT MENTION.

Clarie Opera House—Jazzette Tourists
Olive Branch Ladies Society, to-night
Occidental Building and Loan Association
Occidental Encampment, I. O. O. F., to-night
Card royal to the floral concert
Jefferson Club this evening.

Action Sale.

By W. H. Sherburn, this morning.

Business Advertisements.

Listen to the kettle's song—"Sooie,"
Ranch of 320 acres for sale.
The Capital Hotel, Second street.
Assessment roll received.
Wanted—An energetic cashier.
Wanted—A good manager.
Red House—Extra special values.
Weinstein & Lubin—New neck wear.
Furniture and bedding—John Breuner.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The City Trustees.
The Board of City Trustees met in regular session yesterday morning, present Mayor Brown and Street Commissioner Ryan.

James Tonney's bid for the construction of a sewer in the alley, K and L, Ninth and Tenth streets, was accepted.

The Board, yesterday, voted a resolution to name a sewer in the alley, K to N, Front and Second streets, until the first Monday in May. The same order was passed relative to the proposed new sewer in the alley, L and M, Third and Fourth streets.

Major Brown read a communication from the railroad company, requesting the signatures of the property owners along China Slough, who had agreed to pay their property taxes in full, in 1886.

Attorney was requested to secure the same.

The City Treasurer made the following statement: Balance on hand September 1, 1886, $168,192.89; received during the month of October, $16,500; total, $184,697, paid out during the month, $14,222; balance October 1, 1886, $147,755.75.

Wm. Sharr was awarded the contract for the construction of a sewer in the alley, J and K, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets.

Monday, November 1st, was fixed as the date for hearing objections to the construction of the proposed sewer in the alley, J and K, from Eighth to Thirteenth street.

The Sacramento Valley.

Hon. H. M. Van Arman, recently appointed Immigration Agent for the Southern Pacific Company at Chicago, has turned from a trip over the California and Oregon Railroad, and is very enthusiastic concerning the extent, richness and possibilities of the Sacramento valley. He says: "I was astonished and delighted with the immense amount of fine land and water available in the Sacramento valley, and of the resources of their own county. He was creditably informed that the last Citrus Fair astonished many of our own people, as it did the world, and that the people are so ignorant of their own climate, the productiveness of their soil and climate, it is to be wondered at that this section is comparatively unknown in the regions from which immigration comes."

At the Young Men's Christian Association's Convention which recently concluded its sessions at Los Angeles it was decided to hold the next Convention at Woodland.

The only arrears made yesterday were those of Mrs. Sharr, by officer McCormack, which were trifling, and Mike Lellis, by citizen Schaden, for petit larceny—steal.

The members of the Alta Baseball Club returned yesterday from Grass Valley, greatly pleased with their reception and treat at the hands of the True Blue.

At that time, their agents have gone into the country from which their wealth is now pouring: their pamphlets are scattered broadcast, until there is not a hamlet in the East or West where a copy of the same is not to be found.

The young men who asked to be locked up in the city prison, who have been discussed, read about and talked over and over, until Los Angeles has become a synonym for a land of sunshine and oranges, a land where every boy is a champion of America. He had given the Los Angeles and Riverside exhibits of citrus fruits in Chicago in March last, and was confident that it had done more to bring the attention of the public to the great spots were feeling pretty well yesterday morning and satisfied to leave the caboose.

Hon. Allen Henry, of Chico, has been appointed Major and Engineering Officer of the 1st Cavalry, commanding officer of the Fifth Brigade, N. G. C., and a member of the General Staff and Assistant Adjutant-General on the staff of the commander of the Third Brigade.

Colonel Von Schmidt's dredger will be expected, have its machinery in place within a week, when it will be given a trial of it will take place on Friday or Saturday. If everything works satisfactorily, the filling of China Slough will be commenced at once.

D. H. Murdock, who was arrested last Saturday night on a charge of assault with a pistol, was examined by the coroner of Sacramento and remanded to his quarters in the county jail, to test whether his condition will not improve. He was considerably better yesterday than on the day before.

The 10th Cavalry arrived yesterday from Walnut Grove with a large load of lumber for the Friend & Terry Lumber Company. While coming up from San Francisco, a few days ago, the large carriage of the 10th Cavalry, which had been at Walnut Grove until another horse was brought and the freight transferred.

Complaint has been made at police headquarters to the chief of police that the superior advantages that are offered the immigrant, are facts that should be made known in the East. Young exhibition men are doing a great deal of work in the cities and towns along the foothills of the mountains, and villages are flourishing.

This is noticeable so in Red Bluff and Redding, each of which contains a population of 10,000. Two-thirds of the people in the county there are 3,000,000 acres of land, with a population of the entire county of only about 16,000 souls. Lands can be purchased at from $10 to $30 per acre, and at such prices with these advantages, they cannot long remain unoccupied.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday the charge of carrying concealed weapons pending against F. F. Dolan was dismissed..... Frank O'Neil's case of disturbing the peace went over until November 4th.... Tom Kelly was convicted of vagrancy, and sentenced to six days in the county jail..... Charles English and Joe Johnson, arrested or having been drunk, were sent below for twenty-four hours..... Louis Miller, who disturbed the peace at Jenny Dunn's, stood 1st street, and was sentenced to a month with a deserter, was convicted and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

ENTIRELY BLIND.—C. Halpin, section foreman on the Northern Pacific, was entirely blind from Tolman, who was injured in the face by the accidental discharge of a gun on the 19th inst., as mentioned in the RECORD-ON-THE-20th, is believed by the physician in charge of the Railroad Hospital to have completely lost the sight of both eyes. The accident was the result of a girl, who was a superior with a deserter, and will receive sentence this morning, as will also Joe Harrison, who was adjudged guilty of exposure of person, and John Geary, who was found guilty of disturbing the peace..... In the case of Mrs. A. Harber, for disturbing the peace, was continued until now.

